Federal Bill Opens Way For New Dorm

The possibility of Bowling Green obtaining money for a new men's dormitory may be realized, it was announced this week by Pres. Frank J. Prout.

President Truman this week signed the $300,000,000 dormitory loan bill, Dr. Prout said, which presents universities and colleges the possibility of borrowing money for the construction of new dormitories.

At present a bureau in Washington is establishing the procedure and standards which interested institutions must fulfill to obtain funds through the bill.

Just how this will effect Bowling Green will not be known until the requirements have been published. The loans will be set up on a 40-year basis, with an annual rate of between 2 to 2 1/4 per cent to be charged annually. Money will be loaned to schools to replace frame dwellings on their campuses.

The University is setting up a tentative program to submit when the loan specifications are made known. If possible a loan of $600,000 will be applied for to allow construction of a new men's dormitory, to replace the present wooden structure now in use.

If the loan is granted plans call for the building to be constructed directly east of the Fine Arts Bldg. The dormitory will house 200 men and will contain such features as a large lounge, individual study desks, and combination banquet and ballroom.

3-Day AWS Clinic Opens Tuesday

A 3-day clinic on mental health for the college woman, sponsored by the Ass'n of Women Students, will open Tuesday evening with an assembly for all campus women by the Association of Women Students, will open Tuesday evening with an assembly for all campus women.

Dr. Emily L. Stogdill, head of the Student Psychological Consultation Service of Ohio State University, will be the consultant and principal speaker. Her topic at the opening session will be "The University Woman Prepares for a Dual Role in Life."

At an all-freshman women's assembly Wednesday night Dr. Stogdill's topic will be "The Freshman Woman and Her Three Wishes." This and the Tuesday meeting will be in the auditorium of the Practical Arts Bldg.

Arrangements for the clinic have been made by Lee Wiley and Elinor Elsass, retiring and incoming presidents of AWS, and Dean Florence Currier.

Student Musical Deadline Set

Deadline for students submitting plot drafts for the fall student musical is May 1. A cash prize of $75 will go to the winning entry.

Students having a draft or completed script to enter must see James Limbacher in the University News Bureau before Wednesday noon, April 28 and submit the script by May 1.

Colleges Discuss New MA Degree

Five state universities and the University of Cincinnati will meet this weekend to discuss the possible program that might be adopted by universities to offer a Masters Degree in Physical Education.

Mr. Sam Cooper of the Bowling Green State University health and physical education dept. suggested the meeting and it was then taken up by Dr. Delbert Obertuffer of the Dept. of Physical Education, Ohio State, who was appointed to work out the plans for the meeting.

It is hoped that practical suggestions will be agreed on at this meeting so as to give some type of common standards that could be used by schools to give the proper requirements for offering a masters degree. At present Bowling Green does not offer a Masters Degree in Physical Education.

Attending with Mr. Cooper will be Dr. Russell Coffey and Dr. Emerson Shuck.

Young Journalists To Talk Problems

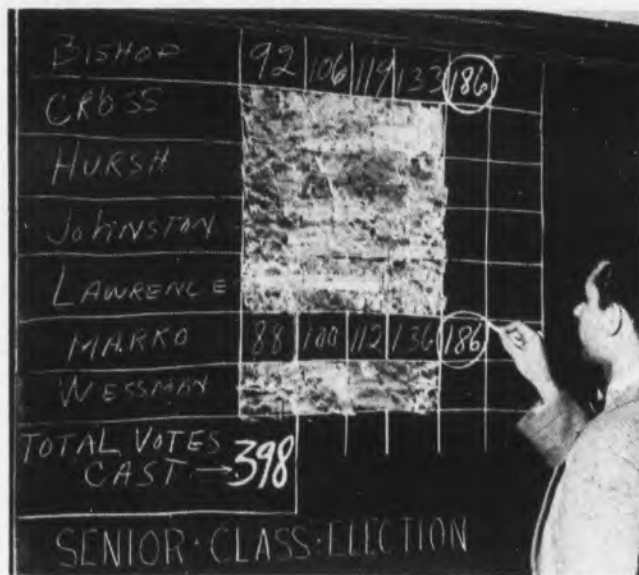

The Northwestern Ohio District Journalism Ass'n will bring around 800 high school students, members of newspaper and yearbook staffs, to Bowling Green tomorrow for an all-day session to discuss the various problems of journalism. The conference is sponsored jointly by the association of and the journalism dept.

Fifteen Bowling Green journalism students will conduct round table discussions. They are: Les Grube, Bill Day, Betty Kos, Jan Dunson, Nancy Nelson, Duane Zumbunn, John Radabaugh, Bob Smith, Hank Bussey, Herb Clark, Chuck Albury, Al Rosenberg, and Kay Schaller.

The journalism faculty will judge the high school papers of about 75 entries. Delta Sigma, Journalism honorary, will award a cup to the best printed paper and an award will also be presented to the best mimeographed paper.

Senate Requires Group Constitutions

All student organizations are to submit constitutions immediately for the Student Senate file. Those will be turned over to Dean McFall's secretary. Student Senate constitution requires the constitutions of all student organizations except those of national fraternal organizations having them on file with Inter-Fraternity or Pan-Hellenic councils.

FINAL TALLY in Wednesday's senior presidential balloting reveals an election rarity—two candidates tied after completed tabulations. A recount substantiated the original result, 186 votes each for Bill Bishop and Andy Marko.

Campus To Approve Office Vacancy Plan

In one of its shortest meetings this year, Student Senate, Monday night, approved a proposed amendment to its constitution; gave its support to more "orientation" of incoming freshmen; and appointed three new Student Court members. The amendment, to be voted on by the student body April 26, changes Article six, dealing with the filling of vacancies of office.

Under the amendment, if a presidential vacancy occurs the vice president fills the office as president pro-tem. The vice president's office is then filled by election in the Senate.

Also, under section II, if a class president's office is vacated, it is filled by the vice president. His, and all other offices, are filled by election in the class.

Senate told newly-elected Sophomore President Wally Jones that it would appoint a committee to work with his group next fall to institute more "mild hazing."

Niles Fulwyler, Angela Genovese

The appointments of Angela Genovese, Niles J. Fulwyler, and Walter A. Rinaldo to Student Court were approved. They were selected from a field of approximately 15 candidates for their interest in the court, scholarship and references.

The Recreation Investigation Committee reported that as soon as the water is warm enough for swimming, Sam Cooper's swimmers will chart the bottom of Urschel Pond.

There are two vacancies for next year's Student Union Committee. Only prospective juniors are eligible. Applications are in Dean McFall's office.

Although appointments to the Student Union Committee are not made until the fall, Senate decided to appoint twice as many this spring as there are vacancies.

Music Groups To Present Elijah

"Elijah" an oratorio which is second only to the "Messiah" in popularity and number of renditions will be presented Sunday, May 7, in the Men's Gym.

This beautiful and dramatic performance requires a large chorus, an orchestra, and four soloists. The chorus is composed of members of the A Cappella, Treble Clef, and Men's Glee Club. Dr. J. Paul Kennedy will direct.

Joseph E. Himmel of the music dept. faculty will be the baritone soloist. Other soloists will be Miss Maryjane Albright, Des Moines, Ia.; Carlton Alridge, Springfield, Ill.; and Mrs. Gladys Winterrowd, Findlay.

Searle To Give Recital Sunday

The PA Aud. will be the scene of a senior voice recital by John Searle, to be given Sunday at 8:15 p.m., it was announced today.

Mr. Searle, who studied under Warren Allen, will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Janice Searle.

JOHN SEARLE

His program consists of selections ranging from Old English to Modern American music. It will also include carefully selected works of Italian and French composers.

The recital is free to the public.

Senate Regulations Have No Rules Governing Tie

BULLETIN—Juniors will vote again Wednesday in a run-off election to break the tie between Bill Bishop and Andy Marko for the senior class presidential berth. Student Senate, with 13 members present at a special meeting at noon yesterday, made the decision for rebalancing between the two candidates, and ruled that only verbal campaigning will be permitted.

By BILL GREENHILL

When the authors of the election rules and elections were working on the provisions to govern student elections no one made an allowance for what happened last Wednesday when Bill Bishop and Steve Marko tied for the presidency of the senior class.

After the final ballot had been counted the two men were

Kappa Sigs Hold Race Tomorrow

Approximately 20 chariots are expected to take part in Kappa Sigma's annual chariot race to be held tomorrow.

The winner of the Venus for a Day title will be announced before the races begin. Pictures of all entries have been sent to Hoagy Carmichael, noted songwriter and a Kappa Sigma member, who will make the final selection.

Steve Albright, chairman of the race, has announced that the deadline for all chariot entries will be 6 p.m. today.

A campus parade, made up of a band and Kappa Sigma members in authentic Greek and Roman costumes, is scheduled to start at 1 p.m.

All those competing in the race are requested to meet at Kappa Sigma house at 2:30 p.m. The race will start at 3 p.m.

Several leading Ohio newspapers will send reporters to cover the race. Two newspapers, the Dayton Daily News and the Toledo Blade, will do features on all activities for their Sunday editions.

There will be a closed fraternity dance at the Kappa Sigma house later in the evening.

Contract Given Equipment Firm

A contract to provide seats and altar equipment for the new Chapel will be awarded to the American Seating Co. in Cleveland. The bid price was approximately $8000.

The University is trying to obtain an authentic church bell to fit in with the early-Ohio architecture of the Chapel. A bell has reportedly been located in Berlin Heights and its history is being investigated.

Square and Compass Club is searching for an old Bible, dating from 1820-1840, for the Chapel altar.

Varsity Debaters Receive Bid To National Tourney

BGSU's debate team ranked third in this district and thereby received an invitation to the West Point National Invitational Tournament April 27-29.

Lou Fernandez and Pat Swineford will represent this university in competition with 32 other schools from eight districts.

Debate teams are chosen on the basis of merit for this tournament, and a ranking system is used. In District V, which includes Bowling Green, the standing is: Northwestern, first; Augustana, second; Bowling Green, third; Notre Dame, fourth; and Purdue, fifth.

The question for this year's tournament is, "Resolved, That the United States Should Nationalize the Steel Industry." Elimination rounds will include four phases of nationalization. The final 16 teams will debate the steel question, the final eight, national security, the final four, business cycle, and the final two, the national question.

At least two rounds of the tournament debates will be held before cadet classes in the West Point Dept. of English. Another two rounds are scheduled to be held before cadet classes in the Department of Social Sciences. The other rounds will be open to general attendance.

Bowling Green's two debaters along with Prof. Harold Mickle will spend a few free days in New York City.

deadlocked at 186 votes apiece. There was a recount and it came out the same way. Believe it or not.

In the vice presidential race, Steve Albright was victorious. Roberta Whitelaw was elected secretary and Dick Doll is treasurer.

A total of 398 ballots were cast in the election, but 26 of them were disqualified for improper marking.

Roberta Whitelaw

A rundown of the Bishop-Marko balloting is as follows. Bishop took a slight edge on first place ballots as he received 92 and Marko 88.

At the end of the second ballot Bishop had pulled away by two or more votes to make it 106 for Bishop and 100 for Marko.

Bishop was credited with 13 more votes on the third ballot while Marko got 12. On the fourth ballot Marko pulled ahead with 24 tallies while Bishop received 14.

Steve Albright

On the fifth ballot Bishop got 53 and Marko 50 and it was a tie, 186 each.

Speech, Hearing, Conference Here Today

Miss Adeline McClelland, director of the University Speech and Hearing Clinic, will preside as president-elect over the fifth annual conference of the Ohio Ass'n of Speech and Hearing Therapists being held here today and Saturday.

She replaces Dr. Virginia Sanderson of Ohio State University, retiring president. Approximately 100 representatives from various Ohio colleges and public school speech and hearing departments are attending the conference.

Lectures and demonstrations on cerebral palsy dominated the program this morning with Dr. Jack Millis, Toledo orthopedic consultant, lecturing.

This afternoon, representatives from both state and local hearing clinics and the University Palsy Clinic will speak.

Tonight in the Commons, the annual banquet and birthday party, celebrating the organization's five-year mark, will be held. Miss Terry Jenkins, a graduate assistant at the palsy clinic, will entertain with Arthur Kurtze, piano accompanist.

Serving as toastmaster of the banquet will be Jack Montgomery, of the speech and hearing dept. of Kent State University. He was the first president of the OASHT.

A workshop-type conference on arising problems of interest will be held Saturday, with two public speech and hearing therapists, yet to be named, giving the lectures.

Sigma Alpha Eta, national honorary sorority in speech and hearing therapy, entertained 30 early arriving representatives with a "Coffee Hour" last night.

A Misused Privilege . . .

Three elections have taken place on campus the past few weeks. Three groups of class officers were elected in campaigns that seemingly had aroused the interest of the entire campus, but when the total vote for each election was tabulated they seemed to have left the prospective student voters unaffected.

There were 1,387 freshmen eligible to vote in their election and yet only 411 exercised the right to ballot. In the sophomore election the percentage was a trifle higher with 373 students voting out of a possible 1,119, while 398 juniors voted out of the 860 eligible.

The student body, we believe, has either become oblivious to the events that take place around them or they have become darned lazy! The latter evaluation seems more logical when considering the immense amount of publicity that has confronted the campus.

The right to vote for a candidate is the basis on which this democracy of ours operates. Perhaps some students can rationalize their seemingly indifferent attitude by saying that it is just an unimportant student election which in reality has little effect on them. Yet these are the same people who always complain that the Student Senate is ineffective and that the students have little to say about forming the policies that directly concern them.

The students at Bowling Green should realize that the only time we can truly have the right to formulate the laws governing the students is when WE, the students, show the proper interest and progressiveness to warrant such action.

Next Wednesday is the final campus election for positions on the Student Senate. The offices to be filled are of the utmost importance to the student body. We urge everyone to get out and vote, and not let just a small percentage of the student body decide who will be next year's leaders.

Hideout Is Closed . . .

The city Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that it is bringing its schedule of winter activities to a close, and consequently will not continue its Friday evening Campus Hideout dances during the remainder of the semester.

The Jaycees undertook the weekly dance program last winter after receiving a request from the University administration and the Student Senate for assistance in providing recreational facilities to supplement the campus social schedule.

We wish to express thanks and gratitude to the Jaycees for the time and effort they contributed, both individually and as an organization, in making the Hideout dances possible. The many students who took advantage of the opportunity for such varied entertainment as the Hideout presented, is testimony itself as to the popularity and success of the endeavour.

The students also should be congratulated for their conduct and behavior, which often presents a problem when entertainment of this nature is provided.

We hope that in another year the Jaycees will again be able to fit the Campus Hideout into its program of activities.

Official Announcement

This column will hereafter contain announcements affecting the student body.

Car stickers must be applied to cars by water and not by scotch tape or other methods according to Chief William Rohrs. Student Court waived the fines for this charge last week but will not continue to do so according to Chief Justice Lillian Hanic.

Parking within 15 feet of the exterior steps at North Dorm is considered a fire hazard and tickets are issued for this offense, according to campus police.

Home Ec Officers

Sally Moulton, a junior home economics major, was elected president of the Home Economics Club to replace Ruth Swisher.

Other new officers elected April 12 are: Virginia Orthwein, vice president; Louise Freeman, secretary; and Martha Baden, treasurer.

Radio Studio Enlargement Due For Completion Soon

Enlarged space for campus radio station WRSM which will provide room for rehearsals at the same time the station is on the air is now under construction in the old workshop under the auditorium stage in the Ad Bldg.

* Work will be completed sometime this spring, according to Registrar John Bunn, but the move into the new quarters will not be made until summer.

The move was made possible since construction shops for the University Theatre have been moved to the Gate Theatre. The old shop provided waste space that could be used to good advantage.

Two studios with their control rooms plus an office for Prof. Sidney Stone of the speech dept., who conducts the radio courses, are being built in the workshop.

Space vacated by the radio station when it moves will provide additional offices for the Foreign Language Dept. and another classroom.

According to Mr. Bunn other moves are being made possible by construction on the campus. As a result of the chemistry dept. moving into its new building when completed it will be possible to expand other departments.

From The Docket . . .

Donald Wisner and Melvin Nelson pleaded guilty to the charge of failure to display new permit decals and were fined $1 each in Student Court Wednesday. They said they had the permits but failed to put them on their cars.

Found guilty of placing the decal on his car improperly, Harry Shearer stated that he didn't know the proper method. He said that he had it fastened with scotch tape rather than placed on with water. His fine was waived.

Tried in absentia, Carl Huston was fined $1 for walking on the lawn south of the Library.

Robert Long was found guilty of the charge of placing his decal on by the improper method. Tried in absentia, his fine was waived.

Charles Parsons, Anthony Marko, Donald Lee, Theodore Sadowski, and Louis Popek were fined $2 each for failure to display stickers. All were tried in absentia.

Profs At Workshop

Kent State workshop for teacher education will be attended by six members of the education dept.

Sponsored by the Conference of Deans of State Universities, this workshop will last from Sunday, April 23, to Friday, April 28.

Those attending are: Dr. Herschel Litherland, Dr. Emerson C. Shuck, Dr. John E. Gee, Dr. Charles W. Young, Prof. William S. Wagner, and Prof. William C. Jordan.

Glamour Book Interests Coeds

Of special interest to women who are wondering where they are headed in their field is a college major's chart in Glamour's Job Scrapbook, available in Dean Kenneth H. McFall's office.

The chart gives major subjects with their salary ranges, beginning jobs, advanced positions, special aptitudes, personal qualifications, general prospects, places to apply, and related fields.

Glamour's Job Scrapbook is a collection of information on a widely diversified group of careers for women compiled by the Job Dept. of Glamour Magazine. It includes 25 pockets devoted to specific career categories, and covers several hundred individual jobs.

Some categories of careers included are advertising, art, clerical work, law, library work, personnel work, public relations, publishing, radio, retailing, social work, teaching, writing, and government work.

Sources of material include trade and professional associations, outstanding personalities in the field, personnel directors, the government, schools, and colleges.

Film Times Changed

Because of the long showing time of the two Campus Movies this weekend, shows will begin at 6:30 and 9:05 p.m.

The Friday feature, "The Razor's Edge" starring Tyrone Power, Clifton Webb, Anne Baxter and Gene Tierney runs 147 minutes. The Saturday feature, "Arizona," with William Holden and Jean Arthur runs 130 minutes plus the short.

Read It And Weep . . .

by BILL DAY

It has been brought to my attention that in Tuesday's edition of the NEWS a new column entitled "What A Shame," "A Lot Of Grief" or something like that has been started by Bob Smith, the managing editor. This has come as quite a surprise to me because in the past seven months I had come to believe that the NEWS had a managing editor who couldn't write, so when he approached me on the subject of writing a column I was more than anxious to have him do it just to prove my point. At this time I am still not positive, and I am somewhat inclined to believe that his column is being ghost written for him by one of his prolific journalism professors.

For some unknown reason, this country goes nuts over movie stars, motion pictures, and Hollywood. I have never been able to understand it because at least half, and I'm being conservative, of our so called great screen stars don't have the mentality of a high school freshman nor no more decency than a bum in the bowery. But worse than the stars are the movies which is the fault of the directors, producers, and big studios. These top people are interested in only one thing; that being to get fifty-five cents out of the pocket of Mr. Movie Fan.

It doesn't seem to me that they have any desire whatsoever to make excellent movies for the public or to be cultural in any sense of the word. Their creed is based on the dollar. And now because some of the more intellectual portions of our population have begun to see through these filmland fools and to stay away from the commercialized theatre, Hollywood has put out a short now playing at all theatres entitled "Movies Are Better Than Ever."

This short is probably the biggest hoax that has been pushed on the American public since Talmadge was elected Governor of Georgia. Any person who thinks movies are getting better must also think the moon is purple. The same day that I saw this short, the theatre showed previews of "Wabash Avenue" with the talented Betty Grable, "Yellow Cab Man" starring the great Red Skelton, and a Shirley Temple picture, the title of which I can't remember.

If movies are getting better, why is it that Hollywood has made it so tough for J. Arthur Rank to show his English made films in this country? Also why was the Italian made "Bicycle Thief," which was acclaimed by movie critics throughout the world as the best picture of the year, cut up so badly in this country that it was almost worthless?

If movies are getting better, I have yet to find out about it. In my opinion, which may not mean a thing, Hollywood is nothing but a cheap fad for a bunch of dreamy eyed teen agers. When movies do get better I will change my mind but until then they still remain to me 99 and 44/100% rotten.

Closed ROTC Ball Is Saturday Night

An atmosphere of military colors and uniforms is the setting of the ROTC's "Second Annual Military Ball," to be held Saturday in the Women's Gym from 9-12.

Feature of the closed dance is the coronation at intermission time of the Queen of the Annual Military Ball, and four other queens representing each ROTC battery.

The five queens will be picked by Prof. G. Gerald Acker and Dr. F. G. Meserve of the biology dept., and Cadet Thomas Beach. Col. William C. Lucas, professor of military science and tactics, will crown each queen.

Howdy Gorman's orchestra will play for the affair, featuring a new style of music and vocals by Freddie Terry and Bob Whisner.

Committees for the dance are: Mary Lou Ross, decorations; Grace Hall and Ruth Dunbar, publicity; and Glenn Reetz, entertainment.

"The Razor's Edge," an adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's best-selling novel, will be the campus movie for tonight. Because of its length, the picture will be shown at 6:30 and 9:30, in the Main Aud.

The cast includes Tyrone Power, Gene Tierney, John Payne, Clifton Webb, Ann Baxter, Herbert Marshall, and Elsa Lancaster.

Tomorrow night's movie, "Arizona," features Jean Arthur as the only white woman in Tucson in 1860. William Holden stars opposite her.

Cattle rustling, Indian fights, and occupation by both Confederate and Union troops give an idea of the action-packed plot of "Arizona." The show will be in the Main Aud. at 7 and 9.

Late News Summary

Compiled from wire of International News Service

WASHINGTON—In a note to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, the United States charged the Soviet Union with deliberate distortions of fact concerning the recent U.S. airplane disaster in the Baltic Sea. The charge demanded full indemnity for the incident and directly accused a Russian fighter plane of shooting down an unarmed U.S. bomber.

DETROIT — After 86 days of striking, workers of the Chrysler Motors Co. still remain away from their jobs. Second only to the 1946, 113-day General Motors walkout, the CIO United Automobile Workers' strike is expected to terminate in the not too distant future. Negotiators have drawn four concessions from both sides in the past three days.

WASHINGTON — Post office services were slashed as a result of dwindling funds, according to Postmaster General Jesse M. Donelson. Post office windows will close earlier and deliveries to residential districts will be limited to one a day.

Capt. Paul Buskey, Middlebury, '38 Air Intelligence, U.S. Air Force

An excellent student at Middlebury College, Vermont, Paul found time to win the coveted All Sports Trophy in his senior year. He graduated in June, 1938.

He then joined a coated paper mill firm as research and control man. Pearl Harbor changed all that—Paul went to Maxwell Field to begin Aviation Cadet training.

An outstanding Cadet, 2nd Lt. Paul Buskey was held over as an instructor after graduation. Then he was assigned as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

His big plane education was topped with 23 missions over the far-famed "Hump," flying C-54 transports. After V-J Day, he stayed on in the Far East until March of 1948—specializing in Air Intelligence.

Back home, after accepting a Regular Air Force Commission, Captain Buskey went to Air Tactical school, was there rated an outstanding student, and won assignment to Command and Staff school.

Today, Captain Buskey is an Air Intelligence Officer on MATS Headquarters Staff at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. He looks forward to a rewarding future in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Trackmen Play Host To Ohio U Saturday

By DAVE REICHERT

Bowling Green track fans get their first of two looks at Coach Dave Matthews' 1950 cindermen before the May 13 Bee Gee Relays, when they entertain Ohio University's Bobcats Saturday at 2 p.m. on the local oval.

Victorious over Akron U and Marshall College last week, the Ohioans could be tough this year, although the Falcons humbled them last year 80-47.

In amassing 95 points against Akron and Marshall to their opponents 11 and 45 respectively, Bobcats did not turn in as good comparable times as the Bee Gee harriers did in losing to Miami.

Coach Jim Johnson will be relying on strength in the two mile, quarter mile, pole vault, and hurdles, to make up for large gaps in the field events, dashes, and mile run.

Jerry Noss, Bill Jordan, and Don Sazima can be expected to count heavily in the dashes. Sazima may fill in the 220 low hurdles, to give help to Chuck Woodfill. Miami swept both hurdles last week.

Bruce King and Stan Weber give Bee Gee the one-two punch in the shot and discus.

In the mile, Frank Kilgore's 4:30 last week will be hard to beat, especially this early in the season.

The two mile will be different, however as Ohio U's John Hasketh holds the state record in that event at 9:45.6. Last week he ran the eight laps in 10:29, far off last year's record pace.

Ray Johnston, undefeated in the 440 will be back again this year. Holder of the Mid-American Conf. record at 49.6, Johnston anchors the mile relay team, which lost only to Bee Gee last year.

In their initial meet of the year, the freshmen, coached by John Monetta, meet the Ohio U. Freshmen as a co-interest in the afternoon races.

Little is known of the Bobkittens, although they were defeated by Bee Gee's Eyases last year.

HS Meets Here

Bowling Green will play host to area high school athletes May 19 and 20 when the district track and tennis meets are held here.

Class "A" and "B" schools will compete in separate divisions in the two sports. Preliminaries will be run off Friday with finals scheduled for Saturday.

Meet The Falcons

Don Sazima---Track

DON SAZIMA

Don Sazima, now entering his fourth year on the Bowling Green track varsity, is our only undergraduate member of Sigma Delta Psi, men's national athletic honorary. The honorary, founded in 1912, lists 15 requirements for admission and they read like a junior edition of the decathlon, plus scholarship and health conditions.

Among the events that must be passed are punting a football 40 yards, climbing a 20 foot rope in 12 seconds, running 100 yards in 11.5 seconds, and vaulting a chin high fence. The small membership shows that admission comes only to those athletes with ability.

Don calls Lakewood his home now but attended high school at John Marshall in Cleveland. As a track man there he ran in dash events and relays on the district championship team and helped set a Cleveland record for the mile relay that still stands.

His major here at BG is Health and Physical Education with a minor in Industrial Arts. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and belongs to the Physical Education Club, Newman Club, Industrial Arts Club, and FTA, besides acting as vice-president of the Varsity Club.

Shock's 3 Hitter Beats Kappa Sigs

Jake Schock hurled a fancy 3-hitter, and Chuck Eger hammered a 3-run triple to highlight Theta Chi's 3-1 triumph over Kappa Sigma Monday. Another well-pitched game was hurled by Jim Clinger of Beta Sigma who whipped Chi Alpha 5-1 with a 6 hitter. Chi Alpha garnered their lone run in the 7th on a triple and a double after Clinger had blanked them for 6½ innings.

Other scores:
Sigma Chi 6, Delta Phi Beta 2
Sigma Alpha Epsilon 6, Alpha Tau Omega 2
Gamma Theta Nu 6, Phi Delta 6 (6 innings—darkness)

A BARTLETTGRAM—Tom Bartlett Says:

The police are more concerned with preventing by encouraging observance of traffic laws than they are in punishing offenders after the accidents occurs. . . . And drivers who break the rules are punished and fined not to inconvenience them and get money for the city's coffers but to teach them not to make the same mistake again. . . . a mistake which might some day cost them their lives. . . . It has been found that in the majority of traffic accidents at least one traffic regulation was violated. . . . Like good medicine, good traffic enforcement is preventative. . . . Through "selective enforcement" which is assigning officers to locations where most accidents are occurring at the times most of them are occurring, violations can be prevented and at the same time prevent accidents. When we teach the young driver that good observance of traffic laws by all drivers means not only safer driving for all but also less delay in traffic, lower taxes for the community, lower insurance rates and greater pleasure in driving. . . . Rockets Here Today For Baseball Opener

By DICK SOMMERS

Granted good weather, Bowling Green's baseball season will open today with Toledo University furnishing the opposition. The field has been a worry to Coach Warren Steller to date, but with the co-operation of the weatherman "Falcon Field" will be ready for action.

Coach Steller still has a large squad on hand since very little cutting has been done because of the poor weather. All hopefuls will be given a chance before a varsity squad is picked.

Positions Shifted In Grid Practice

Despite unfavorable weather conditions until the last few days, Coach Bob Whittaker has been putting his men through their paces in spring football practice. One scrimmage game has been scheduled at the University of Detroit, April 29.

One hundred and five candidates have reported for the spring drills. They include 18 lettermen and last year's freshman crop.

Some changes are being made to give the squad more balance, plugging up holes by moving men from the deep positions to the thin spots. Chief of these is shifting center Gene Aldrich to an end slot. Al Dyckes, a fullback, is being tried out at left half.

James Lewis, who played here in 1942 and '45, is a candidate for right tackle along with Gordon Ackerman, Bud Shanks, and Louis Popke.

Rex Simonds is the only returning letterman at quarterback. Jerry Hylin seems to be taking over the punting chores and Fred Durig is making a good showing among the freshmen.

Some of the other promising freshmen are Robert Hallett, Phil White, Paul Schieg, Don Wrightsman, and Norm Decker.

Spring Cage Drills

Coach Harold Anderson issued the initial call Wednesday for all basketball players to come out for spring practice. The call is open to all varsity members of last year's squad who are not enrolled in some spring sport. Members of last winter's Freshmen team are welcome.

The big call is to underclassmen who came out for the sport last year and were cut. A promise to give these men a new chance is assured by the coaching staff this time.

Ray Hegstrom will probably hurl the first game for the Falcons. Lou Cross has developed a sore arm and will not be available for duty today.

Toledo has 10 returning lettermen on its squad. Carlo Muzi, shortstop, and Carl Tepe, first baseman, are the heavy hitters in the TU lineup, Muzi hitting .344 last season and Tepe a booming .382.

The visitors were to have opened their season Wednesday with Lawrence Tech but rain and cold forced postponement of the game. Thus, the contest this afternoon will be the lid-lifter for the Rockets as well.

The Rockets are expected to be stronger this year and improve their seven win, eight loss record of last season.

No festivities have been planned for this first battle of the diamond season, although some impromptu ones may be arranged at the last minute.

Hotshots Record 23-3 Softball Win

Breaking the lid off the intramural softball season with a resounding bang, the Hotshots lived up to their name by pounding over 23 runs against the Pioneers and allowing only three to their rivals.

Thurston Hall was almost as impressive as they recorded a 17-5 win over the Daytonians. Two forfeits occurred during the initial night of play, the Wildmen and SIM being declared winners over Smoes and Hut H, respectively.

Other opening games found SPO edging APO, 9-7; Rockets taking MIS, 10-7; Dixiecrats beating Johnson's Boys, 7-5; and the Owls an 11-6 winner from West Hall.

Bowling Green's 1948 outdoor track squad was undefeated in six dual meets, totaling over 80 points in every one of them.
